NEW DELHI: Mamata Banerjee has made her most concerted bid yet to lure the Congress out of its stone-wall coalition with the BJP. Banerjee will also decide today what to do about the discord within the alliance with the Congress and CPM. Banerjee is set to make a statement soon on the Congress joining hands with the TMC and the CPM, sources said. If Banerjee's decision is taken in favour of the Congress, Bengal chief minister will no longer need CPM and Trinamool Congress MPs to counter the BJP. Congress is said to have objected to the presence of CPM and TMC MPs in the L-K-J-N-A group of MPs in Parliament, where it plays a king-making role. The left parties, much to the protest of the Congress, joined the L-K-J-N-A group even though their parties are not members of the alliance with the TMC. The Congress has been expanding its footprint in Bengal and is planning to join hands with TMC, CPM and all the smaller parties. Congress general secretary Priyanka Gandhi recently met leaders of the Congress in Bengal and came back with the green signal. A new round of funding for ProPublica and other news organizations has been secured to pay for investigative reporting on college sports. Last year, the Knight Foundation pledged $1 million in support of the work of ProPublica and other news organizations. Today, the Tuck Foundation provided the second round of funding, pledging an additional $750,000. The money will be used to support investigations in topics that include college athletics, education and employment. The Knight Foundation is a private foundation that focuses on the advancement of public life and
